

Our Music Ministry

The Time After Epiphany

George Herbert
Music Director

Aside from its meaning as a Season in our church calendar, Webster also defines epiphany as an illuminating discovery, realization, or disclosure, usually something that comes to us suddenly. In our modern culture I've heard this expressed as an "A-Ha" moment. This sudden understanding always leads to excitement and new-found energy.

Those like myself, attempting to give meaning to worship through music, look for ways to reflect the season in the whole musical offering. It can be challenging, to say the least, but always rewarding. Thus our current challenge is to mirror excitement – the same kind of excitement that must have been felt in Jesus day at the realization that the promised one is here.

Trying to create something energizing sometimes means stepping out of ones comfort zone to try something new. With the coming of the New Year we intend to try some new things – hymns that perhaps you've not sung before – new musical styles. We (the senior choir and I) will also come downstairs for the 10:45 service, except, I will continue to use the Allen and Tannenberg organs for at least some of the hymns, preludes, etc..

Exploring and discovering new ways to receive the promised Savior in our Worship – exciting stuff.

Be there!
